

BOOTED BALL TO VICTORY

Coburn of Norwich Seconds Scored the Only Points

AGAINST GODDARD SEM.

Game on the Local Campus Yesterday - Was Not Interesting to Watch Because of the Frequent Penalties. The Score Was 3 to 0.

A beautiful goal from the field, kicked from placement at the 35-yard line by Coburn of the Norwich university second foot ball team, won the game over Goddard seminary on the local gridiron yesterday afternoon. This field goal, made in the middle of the last half, was the only scoring of the game, and Norwich won, 3 to 0. This is the N. U. second season victory over Goddard this year, the first game played at Northfield ending 11 to 2. Yesterday Goddard was weakened perceptibly by the loss of its two best backs, McMurphy and Scott, who are laid up with injuries.

The game was more or less of a fizzle during the first half, as neither team seemed to be able to get down to playing foot ball. Nearly every rush ended in a penalty for one side or the other for off sides or other misplays; consequently the ball was changing hands near the middle of the field a good share of the time.

In the second half the visitors came back stronger and just before the field goal was made they nearly had Goddard pushed over the goal line for a safety. The visitors kicked to Goddard and White was downed with the ball on the 20-yard line. On the first rush Goddard was penalized five yards for off sides. After unsuccessful attempts to gain, Moore then punted for 20 yards. On the first rush, N. U. was penalized 10 yards for huddling and on the next rush Tumble and Towles fell on the ball for Goddard. Moore attempted a forward pass which missed five and N. U. got the ball.

On a fake forward pass N. U. lost five yards and Goddard then held for down on the seminary's 15-yard line. On its first rush Goddard gained five yards by a penalty on N. U. for off sides. Moore then tried a forward pass, but threw the ball wild and it struck the ground. This cost a penalty of 15 yards, taking the ball back to within five yards of Goddard's goal line. Sector then attempted to kick the line, but was forced back and barely saved himself from being pushed over the line for a safety. Moore made a good punt for a gain of 35 yards.

Norwich tried a rush through the line without success and then the quarterback booted for the place kick, which Coburn booted straight between the posts. Goddard kicked off and time was soon called with the ball in the center of the field. The line-up:

NEITHER SIDE SCORED.

Great Foot Ball Battle Between Fordham and Georgetown.

New York, Nov. 3.—The annual foot ball duel between Georgetown university and Fordham college yesterday ended without a score. Five thousand enthusiasts saw the rivals play each other to a standstill at American league park. In the first half Georgetown was once within striking distance of a goal from the field. The opportunity was neglected, however, and the half was lost to Fordham on an uncompleted forward pass.

In the second half Georgetown made an ineffectual attempt to overcome the

A real surprise awaits every sufferer from kidney or bladder trouble who takes several doses of Pape's Diuretic. weight advantage of their opponents by forward passes, two of which netted gains of forty yards, but the Bronx colts were superior in line work and the game ended with neither side getting the advantage.

Captain Dailey of Georgetown was injured and had to retire from the game. In the last few seconds of play, Taft White of Fordham electrified the crowd by running through the entire Georgetown eleven for nearly sixty yards, but the whistle blew on the next scrimmage and the game ended with the ball on Georgetown's 15-yard line.

Although Fordham had a half dozen of the same warriors who defeated Georgetown last year 22 to 0, and the same team which beat Cornell this year, the local collegians found the Georgetown heavier line invulnerable and a remarkable defense, especially in open play.

In the first half most of the play was in Fordham's territory. Fordham strong, then in the second half but costly fumbles and ineffective passes kept the maroon team from scoring.

MAY SHORTEN SEASON.

Chicago, Nov. 3.—It is believed that both the American and National league schedules for next year will be short and if President Ban Johnson has his way he declared today the American league would anyway, starting the games the first of May and finishing October first. He thought this way would escape much of the disagreeable weather. It would make the schedule consist of 140 games.

SEPARATES FROM HUSBAND.

Wife of Henry Clows, Jr., Will Seek Divorce.

Baltimore, Nov. 4.—Mrs. Henry Clows, Jr., who before her marriage to Frederick Gebhardt, the well known sporting man and millionaire clubman, was Miss Louise Morris, and considered one of the most beautiful women in America, has separated from her young husband.

Clows arrived in New York Tuesday with his mother, who has gone to Europe in an attempt to reconcile her son and his wife. Mrs. Clows has remained in Paris with her two children. It is understood that the separation is final and that divorce will be the outcome of the difficulty.

Mrs. John Chester Backus Pendleton, formerly Miss Mildred Morris, and sister of Mrs. Clows, when interviewed yesterday at her home, declined to discuss the reasons for the prospective divorce. "You can understand my position in the matter," said Mrs. Pendleton. "I am sorry not to be able to tell you what you want to know. I will admit, however, that the separation is final and that a divorce will probably be the result."

Although no definite reason is given for the intended divorce, it is understood that Mr. and Mrs. Clows were not congenial, their temperaments were "out of harmony." So their friends say. Society has long been hearing rumors of the contemplated separation.

NATIONAL VIEW OF ELECTIONS

Parson's Victory Will Affect Coming Fight on Him

BY SPEAKER CANNON

Concern Over the Bay State—Narrow Republican Margin Means Lower Tariff Sentiment—Beveridge Continued as Indiana Senator.

Washington, Nov. 4.—Certain phases of the elections yesterday are viewed in Washington as of much national importance. Among Republicans there is general gratification at the crushing blow delivered to Tammany in the loss of the New York City board of estimates and the county ticket. It is believed here that Representative Herbert Parsons, chairman of the Republican county committee comes out of the fight with his prestige much enhanced. Speaker Cannon and his followers are bent on fighting Parsons this winter on account of his charge that a deal was made by the Cannon organization with Tammany to uphold the House rules. It is pointed out that Parsons, as the head of a triumphant Republican party in Greater New York, will not be an easy man for the speaker to down.

Of great national importance, as viewed here is the outcome in Massachusetts, where Governor Draper's majority was cut almost to a shadow. Without doubt this cut was due to the strength of the tariff revision movement led by Eugene N. Foss. The income tax also entered into it, as well as labor questions. The Democrats supported the income tax. The strength of the lower tariff sentiment in Massachusetts is looked on as having a bearing on the congressional elections next year, and as highly encouraging to western republican insurgents in congress and out of it.

Political interest here in the defeat of the disfranchisement amendment in Maryland rests chiefly in the fact that Maryland is kept in the grip of the Democratic machine leaders and will continue to be doubtful.

The election of Shunk as mayor of Indianapolis by the Republicans, forebodes a Republican legislature next year and means the return of United States Senator Beveridge.

In view of the fact that President Taft declared against the Boss Cox ticket in Cincinnati, it is expected that Cox will oppose any Taft candidate for the senatorship to succeed Senator Dick. It is regarded as doubtful whether Charles F. Taft will run for the Senate.

New York's New Mayor.

New York, Nov. 3.—William J. Gaynor, who now becomes mayor of Greater New York, was elected on the strength of his personal record as a jurist and a liberal. Although the Tammany machine, in the campaign, had maintained throughout the campaign that no boss shall dictate to him and one of his favorite remarks was that if there were to be any swallowing between him and the tiger he would ultimately be found on the outside.

Gaynor was prominently mentioned as a Democratic vice-presidential possibility last year, and in 1894 he declined the Democratic nomination for governor of New York. He has been a near-candidate for mayor of New York for years, but as he expressed himself to friends he wanted to be sure of election, to be elected mayor and then governor with a view to becoming some day president of the United States.

Backed by Tammany in the campaign just ended, Gaynor was bitterly assailed by pulpit and bar, not to mention the bitter attacks of Hearst, who repudiated him after having agreed to support him, and the less personal attacks of Bannard. His enemies sought to show that in his capacity as justice of the supreme court he had tried to force the passage of the anti-betting legislation in this state, but the candidate while denying the charges, declined to answer at length what he branded as lies.

During the campaign, William H. Ivins, the Republican candidate for mayor in 1905, publicly charged Justice Gaynor, then still on the bench, with abuse of his office for political purposes and challenged him to bring proceedings for disbarment. District Attorney Jerome called him "a political charlatan shown in the past to be totally destitute of political courage and whose erratic ability is tinged with a morbidness which is almost akin to insanity, a combination of a demagogue and a fanatic."

To these charges, Judge Gaynor's friends reply that if it is promised that he is an old line Democrat, a believer in the axiom that "that government is best governed which is least governed," his decisions and his political life will be found alike consistent.

Justice Gaynor, who is now 58 years old, married, and the father of eight children, first attained prominence in connection with a taxpayer's suit which he caused to be brought against Hugh McLaughlin, one time Democratic boss of Brooklyn, in the course of which he saved the city $1,000,000. In a similar suit against the Brooklyn elevated railroads he collected another million for the city in back taxes. In 1893 he was elected to the supreme court. While a member of that court he broke the power of John V. McKane, the boss of Coney Island, and sent him to Sing Sing for election frauds.

PEARY REACHED THE NORTH POLE

National Geographic Society Officially Approves His Claim—Gold Medal Will Be Given Him.

Washington, Nov. 4.—Commander Robert E. Peary was yesterday voted a gold medal by the National Geographic society for having reached the North Pole.

The board of managers of the society at a meeting yesterday accepted unanimously the report of its sub-committee of scientists who had examined the explorer's records and proofs, and found them to be conclusive of his claim that he had reached the Pole.

A medal will also be given Capt. R. A. Bartlett of the Roosevelt.

The society adopted a resolution that the question of whether or not any explorer reached the Pole prior to 1900, shall be referred to a sub-committee of experts, with authority to send for papers or make such journeys as may be necessary to inspect original records.

This indicates that the society proposes as soon as possible to pass upon the records of Dr. Frederick A. Cook.

PEARY GRATIFIED.

Much Pleased Over Action of Geographic Society.

Portland, Me., Nov. 4.—"I am extremely gratified at the action of the board of managers of the National Geographic society and greatly appreciate the honor which they have conferred upon me in voting the medal," said Commander Peary, when informed of the action of the society yesterday in voting him a gold medal for reaching the North Pole.

When questioned about the comment on the fact that he did not call at the navy department while in Washington, Commander Peary said he arrived in Washington late in the forenoon, went before the sub-committee of the National Geographic society soon after lunch, was with the committee until after the department had closed and was obliged to leave for New York on the midnight train.

Causes Debility

Here Are Facts Backed Up by a Strong Guarantee.

Catarrh causes debility. In our opinion, most people suffering from general debility have catarrh. Such cases of debility cannot be completely cured by medicine not designed to eradicate catarrh. In every case where our remedy fails to give entire satisfaction, we will not charge a cent for the medicine employed during the trial. No surely no one should hesitate to believe us or to put our claim to a practical test under such conditions. We will take all the risk; no one else can lose anything by the transaction.

We make these statements and this offer because we know and have time and again have proved that Rexall Mucous-Tone rarely fails to do as we claim. It is not a cure-all prescribed to cure every disease that flesh is heir to. It is intended for one purpose, i. e., to cure catarrh by assailing the diseased condition in a reasonable scientific way, which is to employ agents that have been found to have the tonic and alterative power to correct faulty metabolism (tissue change) and to stimulate and help nature overcome the cause or causes of catarrh. This being done, appetite increases, nutrition improves, weight is gained, comfort of body is attained and life's work taken up with the zest natural to the perfectly healthy individual.

We want you to try Rexall Mucous-Tone. Follow directions and take it regularly and consistently for a reasonable length of time. Then, if you are not satisfied, come back and tell us and the money you paid for the treatment will be returned without any argument whatever.

GUNS AHEAD OF ARMOR?

Battleship Jena Riddled by Projectiles

ARMOR IS PENETRATED

In the French Experiments—Kitcheners Reviews Troops of the Mikado.

Thirty Thousand Soldiers Drill Before the Emperor.

Washington, Nov. 4.—During the past two years several tests have been held to determine, if possible, the comparative strength of modern armor and modern guns. England shot up the battleship Jena; America used the old Florida for a target; France has just attacked the battleship Jena with projectiles of every calibre. What the results of these experiments have been has never been made public in exact detail but certain general conclusions have been reached.

According to a writer in the Paris Matin the French tests showed that the offense was much superior to the defense; in other words, guns of every calibre were able to penetrate the corresponding armor. Theoretically the armor was the strongest, practically it proved itself much the weaker. The experiments are considered to have established that the whole hull must be protected with armor of uniform strength. In this respect the Matin's writer claims superiority for the Dreadnought class. The results also show that future French warships ought to have their primary and secondary batteries more completely armored and the ships should carry a larger supply of ammunition. They should have a minimum speed of twenty knots and their tonnage should be from 22,000 to 23,000. The cost price of such vessels would be at least $13,000,000.

The salesman frowned.

"What's that?" he asked.

"Mikado's libretto," repeated the other.

"No, no, no," said the clerk, shaking his head. "Washington Star."

LABOR TO CONTINUE FIGHT.

Gompers Declares He Cannot Surrender Constitutionally Guaranteed Rights.

New York, Nov. 4.—President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor has issued the following statement in regard to the decision of the district court of appeals of the District of Columbia, which upheld the decision of the lower court in sentencing Mr. Gompers, John Mitchell and Frank Morrison for contempt of court in connection with the Buck Store & Range company case:

"With all due respect to the majority of the court, I cannot surrender constitutionally guaranteed rights because a judge will issue an injunction invading and denying these rights. Chief Justice Shepard's dissenting opinion is in defense of the constitutional and inherent rights. Minority opinions of court in the past when human rights were invaded have ultimately prevailed, become the law of the land and the generally accepted rule of life, and I have an abiding faith that the rule in this case will prove no exception. If I must go to jail I shall have the consciousness of the fact that other men have in the past been compelled to suffer in defense of justice and right in the cause of humanity and for the maintenance of human liberty."

"I intended to stay over here a day or two, but I am going to change my plans, and shall leave so I can get into Washington as soon as I can. I want to be within the jurisdiction of the court, whatever disposal is made of the case."

Mr. Gompers said that probably an appeal would be taken to the United States supreme court, but that he was not yet in a position to speak positively until he had conferred with counsel in the matter. "But we will fight to the last ditch," Mr. Gompers added, "and then on beyond that."

"SAVED FROM MEAT TRUST."

Britain Hails Fresh Beef From Australia.

London, Nov. 4.—The arrival in the Thames of a cargo of chilled beef from Australia, said to be in tip-top condition, is heralded here today as foreshadowing the relief of the British meat market from the danger of being throttled by the American Beef Trust. Previous attempts to bring chilled beef from Australia have failed, the time of transportation being so great that the meat invariably was condemned upon its receipt. The frozen variety from that source brings scarcely half the price paid for American chilled beef. Traders here claim that if the present shipment is in so good condition as reported, that Australia will be able to more than make up the shortage, caused by the increased home consumption by America.

PATENT INQUIRY GOES ON.

Court Has No Power to Stop Investigation.

Washington, Nov. 4.—"Courts are invested with no power to interfere with or to supervise the conduct of investigations in the patent office," declared Chief Justice Shepard of the court of appeals, in delivering an opinion yesterday reversing a decree of the lower court in the matter of the injunction granted John A. Henry of the Henry Lamp company, prohibiting Commissioner of Patents Moore from prosecuting an investigation into alleged irregularities in the applications for Henry's patents.

The case grew from the criminal prosecution of Henry, a York (Pa.) inventor, Attorney Henry E. Everding of Philadelphia, and a patent examiner, New W. Barton, on charges of conspiracy. Henry was acquitted. Everding was convicted and Barton pleaded guilty.

From the facts brought out at the trial, Commissioner Moore decided to investigate the applications for the Henry patents on the use of Tungsten as a light filament. Henry thereupon obtained the injunction which yesterday was reversed.
